GENERAL NEWS.

A COMET MAKES ITS APPEARANCE IN THE NORTHERN HEAVENS.

The Chicago Faster holds out bravely—The Whisky question dividing the Republicans of North Carolina—Popular Sympathy with the Striking Brewers, Etc.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

ROCHESTER, June 23.—Prof. Swift has received dispatches [illegible] that another great comet has been discovered by L. L. Edwards, of Hartford, Penn., and Edgar L. Larkin of Windsor, Illinois. It is in the constellation of Auriga and very large.

NEW YORK, June 23.—A large comet was observed here this morning.

The Ute Commission.

LOS PINOS AGENCY, [illegible] City, Col., June 23.—The Ute commission [illegible], accompanied by cavalry, have crossed Grand river and gone toward the [illegible] reservation [illegible].

Hari Kari.

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., June 23.—In a fit of delirium tremens this morning, Mathew O'Donell, a laboring man, committed hari kari with a razor. He only lived a short time.

A Worthy Purpose.

LONDON, July 23.—In the commons, Duff, under colonial secretary, said that the government was now considering the question of an international agreement to suppress kidnapping and the slave trade in the western Pacific.

The Census of England.

The census is rapidly approaching completion. The entire population of the kingdom will be above 35,000,000, an increase in a decade of a little over 1,000,000.

Four Tracks.

JERSEY CITY, June 23.—The Pennsylvania railroad Co. contemplate four tracks upon their New York division between Philadelphia and here.

The Faster.

CHICAGO, June 23.—Griscom's weight today 155¾ pounds; loss since yesterday, one pound, since beginning 41¼. He walked seven miles this morning.

Hanged.

DANBURY, N. C., June 23.—Two negroes [illegible] on a charge of outraging a white woman were taken from jail last night by a body of masked men and hanged. The punishment is generally approved by both white and colored people.

The North Carolina Republicans.

The condition of the republican party in North Carolina is scarcely less complicated than that of the party in Virginia. The temperance movement engineered primarily in the legislature of the state by the democrats at the instance of ex-Senator Merriman, has already had the effect to split the republican state committee into two factions, and is likely to divide the party in the state unless the administration shall interfere to prevent the extraordinary position of some of its revenue officials, who as republican committeemen appear to be organizing a whisky party.

The Brewers' Strike.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Coopers' Union was crowded last night with workingmen sympathizing with the strike of breweryman. Sixty trades unions were represented. Victor Drury was chairman. It is stated that employing brewers have made a pool amounting to $80,000 or $90,000 to influence malt dealers in the west. Boycott brewers who send beer to New York. Resolutions adopted by the meeting declare that inasmuch as the boss brewers have proved regardless of all considerations and unapproachable by every argument, that boycotting is the duty of every honorable citizen as the only means left to force them to respect the rights of working men.

Fast Time.

W. H. Vanderbilt yesterday drove his road team, Small Hopes and Lysander, to a [illegible] at the gentleman's driving park, Fleetwood, in 2:[illegible] [illegible] which the first half mile was trotted in 1:0[illegible]. Mr. Vanderbilt confidently expects to [illegible] [illegible] with [illegible] Small Hopes, with the above team within the next month, as they are only [illegible] lately.

Bequest.

[illegible], Ohio, June 23.—John R. Buchtel yesterday gave Buchtel College $75,000 more, making [illegible].

Up in a Balloon.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Prof. King of Philadelphia, intends to make a balloon voyage from inland to the Atlantic seaboard. He believes the surface currents of air set steadily eastward. This trip is an experiment preparatory to a voyage across the Atlantic. Funds for a large balloon and the trip from the Mississippi river have been subscribed.

Railway Items.

ST. LOUIS, June 23.—A private telegram says that [illegible] has secured control of the [illegible] & Texas Central Railroad.

It is reported that the bridge and tunnel leased to the Missouri Pacific and Wabash lessees pay 7 per cent. on [illegible] mortgage bonds and 6 per cent. on [illegible] preferred bonds and 3 per cent. on [illegible] second mortgage bonds, and [illegible] tunnel bonds, equal to an annual rental of [illegible].

The Naval Uniform.

The navy department decides to substitute [illegible] straps for shoulder knots, worn by all classes of the grade of ensign. Officers of this grade will also be allowed to wear chapeaux and epaulettes in [illegible].

A GIGANTIC STEAL.

George Taylor Grabs Millions out of the U. S. Treasury on Fictitious Claims. The Money out of Reach.

CHICAGO, June 23.—The Times' Washington special says George Taylor of this city is reputed to be worth something in the neighborhood of $31,000,000. He was formerly a member of congress from New York. He came here poor several years ago and acquired wealth with astonishing rapidity, sometimes achieved by a knowledge of devious ways that money in the U. S. treasury is reached through official mismanagement and wrong doing. Taylor at present is worthy of special attention from the fact that he is the reputed owner of an assignment of $5,000,000 of the $16,000,000 claimed by this country before the French-American claims commission. Taylor was largely instrumental in securing the passage of the bill establishing the commission and before so doing had secured a majority of the claims, which has been boastfully stated by himself. The fact of his being the principal claimant before the commission makes a decision of the U. S. claims just given, of great interest to members of the commission and the country. In this decision George Taylor is shown up as guilty of subornation of perjury and manufacture of a claim of $400,000 against the U. S. Upon this fraudulent claim, the court of claims believing in its honesty, awarded the sum of $290,000 which was paid to Taylor for a syndicate represented by him. The court afterward reviewed the case when it was too late to save the money and it now solemnly avers that it is the first time in the history of the government when so large a sum has been wrested from the treasury upon a case wholly fictitious.

The petition was filed in August, 1864, in the name of the firm of Bellacombe, Nablom & Co. What led to this final action of the court was the investigation of the Louisiana authorities four years after the fraud was successful. In 1868 the grand jury in New Orleans investigated the case carefully and indicted Taylor, the attorney of record so savagely denounced in the decision given above, although his name is not mentioned with his associates in fraud. This indictment was based upon the allegation of the fraudulent character of the entire claim. A requisition was made for Taylor but Judge Carter who is a personal friend of his refused to give him up. Taylor's plea was that the court of claims was the only one that had authority to pass upon the validity of the testimony submitted by him. The decision of court is just made has created a great sensation among lawyers as it at once causes suspicion of fraud over the main body of claims pending before the French claims commission.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The Cornell Crew.

LONDON, June 23.—The Cornell crew rowed over the Henley course yesterday, making forty strokes to the minute the whole way. Capt. Cook, who rowed with the Yale crew against the London rowing club at Philadelphia in 1876, is assisting the Cornell crew in their training. The men are in good health and spirits.

French-Italian Quarrels in Paris.

PARIS, June 23.—There have been quarrels between Frenchmen and Italians at Jeugny, Nancy, Vanvres and some poorer quarters of Paris without serious results.

The English Telegraphers.

LONDON, June 23.—Many telegraphers have sought employment in the cable offices, where the pay is nearly double government rates. Many will resign.

Duel in France.

PARIS, June 23.—Louis de Cassagnac, brother of Paul, fought a duel with Capt. Herissant today. De Cassagnac, after receiving a slight scratch, [illegible].

Italians Fleeing from Marseilles.

MARSEILLES, June 23.—Italians continue to quit the city. [illegible] steamship companies have offered to the Italian consul free accommodation aboard their ships for Italians afraid to remain, and [illegible] have already left.

THE PACIFIC COAST.

CALIFORNIA.

A Pure Delusion.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—A [illegible] says of the new Tichborne claimant [illegible] known in that vicinity and [illegible].

A Big Haul.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—[illegible] alias Potter yesterday [illegible] his room and [illegible] important letters and papers [illegible] he refuses to [illegible] national bank bills [illegible] Two 100 [illegible] dollar United States [illegible].

The Comet as seen in California and Arizona.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—The comet reported discovered at two places in the eastern states last night was seen here early this morning by Prof. Hacks and seen at Bodie at 4:30 A.M. [illegible] was well defined [illegible] was observed at Tombstone at 4 A.M., [illegible] apparently half the size of the full moon [illegible] and very brilliant. All dispatches state that the comet was northwest northerly, holding northeast and just above the horizon.

Defaulters in Office.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—In settling the affairs of his office William Higby, present collector of internal revenue of the California district, before turning over the office to Chancellor Hartson, the new collector, it has been discovered that many of his deputies are defaulters. One named Hibbard is short $4000 in his accounts; another named [illegible] is defaulter in a heavy sum. Both have absconded, but the former has been captured. Higby consequently cannot at present settle the affairs of the office, and Hartson has given him till July 1st to square accounts, when the latter will take the office.

San Francisco Republican Convention.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—The republican county convention tonight adopted a platform and received the names of about 100 candidates for supervisors and school directors. The platform indorses the administration, advocates stringent economy in municipal affairs, and prosecution of all officers who may be caught in fraudulent practices. The salaries of officials to be reduced, and no officer can accept any money other than his salary. All officials elected by the republican party in 1879 who did not carry out the pledges made at that time are strongly denounced. Water rates are pronounced excessive and a reduction is called for and candidates for supervisors must pledge themselves to make such reduction.

Railroad Contract.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, June 23.—A contract has been let for the first section of 45 miles of railroad, to be finished in 60 days from San Luis Obispo to Arroyo Grande. A force of men and teams start in tomorrow.

The Field Fires.

MARTINEZ, June 23.—The damage done by fire in the grain fields yesterday is variously estimated at from $30,000 to $50,000, about $6000 of which is covered by insurance. The loss falls heavily upon the unfortunate losers, and [illegible] renters they lose about all they are worth.

Another Grain Fire.

DAVISVILLE, June 23.—A large fire started near this town today which spread rapidly over the adjoining ranches, burning a large amount of standing and one or two stacks of barley and wheat. At one time our little town was in great danger, but the fire was finally subdued.

ARIZONA.

The Fire at Tombstone.

Further Particulars of the Great Tombstone.

[illegible] Following are the particulars: Wm. A. Cuddy [illegible] in the Tribune building when it caught fire. While giving assistance [illegible] his throat and great suffering. Chas. D. Reppy, of the Epitaph [illegible] scalp wound from a falling [illegible]. William Nash was severely burned by the explosion of some giant powder in McKean & Knight's store. Ed Stephan was burned on the face and neck by a burst of flames from the Palace saloon. Officer Magee received a cut on the knee about two inches long while pulling down an awning on Fifth street. The most serious accident of the day occurred to George Parsons. While doing service as a fireman he was struck down and buried by a mass of burning timbers, and but for the timely assistance of bystanders must have perished. As it is his life is safe, though his injuries are severe. He is much bruised generally and so badly wounded on the throat as to render sewing necessary without and within.

Fight between Mexicans.

CONTENTION CITY, June 23.—Tuesday night, about seven miles from here, three Mexicans became involved in a quarrel, which resulted in the instant killing of one and the mortal wounding of another. A third sustained slight injuries.

NEVADA.

Homicide at Virginia City.

VIRGINIA, June 23.—Daniel Kelleher, deputy county clerk, was stabbed and killed on the street by Dennis Hennessy, a curbstone broker. Cause not fully understood, but believed to have been political matters.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

At Port Townsend.

PORT TOWNSEND, June 23.—A very brilliant comet was plainly visible here last evening at midnight. It was about ten degrees east of the north star and about fifteen degrees above the horizon. Those who witnessed it describe it as being beautiful in appearance.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

From Victoria.

VICTORIA, June 23.—The Colonist reports that the syndicate that recently purchased the Starr line of steamboats the Seattle coal mines and which has also [illegible] of the Northern Pacific railroad, has, it is rumored on good authority, negotiations pointing to the acquisition of the coal belt on the east coast of this island. The title to these lands is still vested in the province and the only good coal on the Pacific coast is comprised in the belt. This land has been held in reserve since 1874 for railway purposes and should the syndicate agree to construct the Island railway in return for the land, it is more than likely that the provincial government will be prepared to pass the belt over to the Americans. The effect of such an arrangement would be to place the coal lands of the province in the hands of foreigners, at whose mercy the Canadian Pacific and the imperial navy would then be for their coal supply. This proposition is looked upon with favor here. The celebrated Wellington seam runs from end to end of the island, and copper, iron and silver leads abound in the belt.

The ships Dorset and Lady Bower, and bark Pacific Slope are loading at Hastings' mills.

The ships Star of Brunswick and Jon. Nicholson are taking in lumber at Moodyville. The ships will carry 1,000,000 feet.

The steamship California has passed for Portland. The steamship Victoria, from San Francisco to New Westminster, passed up yesterday.

Ohio Republicans.

The platform of the Ohio Republicans is short and to the point. Inasmuch as the contest there will probably develop great interest throughout the country, we publish herewith the principles upon which they appeal to the voters of the state.

Resolved, That the republicans of Ohio heartily approve and indorse the administration of James A. Garfield, president of the United States, and we hereby pledge to him our cordial support in all the duties devolving upon him as the chief magistrate of the nation.

Resolved, That we heartily indorse the wise policy of the republican party of giving full protection to American labor and to discriminating in favor of home production.

Resolved, That we fully indorse the [illegible] [illegible]

TELLS HIS STORY BEFORE THE BRIBERY INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE.

His Proposition to Senator Strahan—Offer of [illegible] without Authority from the President—Other Testimony, but all to No Purpose, Etc., Etc.

[illegible]

[illegible] That was the way the matter was [illegible] [illegible] requests made to me for office [illegible] I may have conveyed to Strahan the idea that he would give me an affirmative answer he could have the appointment, that was after my interview with the president, and I knew that Knox [illegible]. To Bangs—I know many of President Garfield's nominations were confirmed, and I think Senator Strahan's would be.

A. W. Hickcock, member of the assembly from [illegible] county, testified that he had a conversation with Bradley on the 8th of June before he made his charge in the house. He spoke about his voting. I spoke to him about C. H. Russell's change of vote and told him it would be good for him and his constituents if he would make a similar statement. He said that he was going to quit voting for Conkling and Platt and vote for Cornell and Rogers. I am sure that he did not say that he would vote for Depew. I have heard a great deal of talk about members selling votes prior to this investigation. It has been said that the votes of members could be bought with money, but I cannot say who said it. I really thought Bradley would vote for Cornell and Rogers and so told him.

Counsel on both sides had announced that they had no further evidence to offer. F. A. Carpenter said that there were discrepancies in the testimony of Davenport and Strahan which it would be well to have explained if possible.

Senator Strahan again took the witness chair and said:

Davenport never mentioned Knox's name once. He stated that Knox's name would be set in place of Judge Chester. He never mentioned it the last time he had a conversation with Knox in Washington. It was he also that suggested that I should hold the matter under advisement until morning, as if I could not take the office he wanted it himself. Gardner and asked him to take it. He did not ask me at any time to keep the interviews confidential, however, to keep the matter private. He said that he had the authority to offer me the office. I had not in my mind the president, cabinet, or anyone else in particular. Witness then detailed the conversation as given by him in the first examination.

Chairman Scott announced that the committee desired to hear counsel sum up.

Bangs said he did not care about summing up unless the other side wanted to sum up. He said that he did not think much light could be thrown upon the case by summing up. He did not believe what he could say would change the opinion of a single member of the committee. It was agreed not to sum up. The committee then went into executive session and soon afterwards adjourned.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

In thirty-seven years the Church of England has erected 2581 churches, and expended on church buildings $250,000,000.

The death is announced of the Rev. Charles John Elliott, Vicar of Winkfield, and one of the revisers of the Old Testament.

Dr. Dexter, senior editor of the Congregationalist, has been appointed to give the annual series of Congregational lectures in England in 1882, and is said to be the first foreigner to whom this honor has been given.

This year being the five hundredth anniversary of the Hereford Cathedral school, which was founded by Bishop Gilbert in 1381, it is proposed to commemorate the event by holding a [illegible] for the [illegible].

LIFE IN THE ARMY AT APPOMATTOX

A Little Southern Gasconade about the Surrender

I have only to add, to conclude [illegible] which in the eyes of some [illegible] the fame of Lee, may yet go down into history as the triumphant masterpiece of his genius.

The writer [illegible] that his army was [illegible] Appomattox, but that it was not captured before it reached that point. [illegible] Petersburg and Five Forks, since [illegible] by overwhelming numbers [illegible] without food and with little ammunition [illegible] almost without parallel in military annals [illegible] gallant army of [illegible] men. Bad for Badeau.

CHICAGO, June 9.—The Times New York special: A curious fact has just become known. A short time before the Chicago convention, Badeau arrived in New York from London with stereotyped plates of the campaign life of Grant which he had prepared abroad, in anticipation of the nomination at Chicago. The plan was to put the work to press immediately upon the news of Grant's nomination. The duty paid on the plates was taken away when the result of the convention became known. Badeau brought them back and made application for a permit to reship the plates and to receive the duty paid. The request could not be granted since the duty had been paid on them, and they had been removed. But for the entire conditions at Grant's nomination, the plates could have been left in bond, and they been entered for export. Their prompt removal was probably for the purpose of arranging them on the press for immediate publication.

Catarrhal

Wei De Meyer's Treatise on Catarrh, explains the following important facts:

1. That Catarrhal Colds become a poisonous infection, at first local, and finally constitutional.

2. That, being constitutional, the infection is beyond the reach of mere local remedies.

3. That impurities in the nostrils, are necessarily swallowed into the stomach and inhaled into the lungs, thus poisoning the Digestive, Respiratory and Genito-urinary organs.

4. That Catarrhal virus follows the mucous membrane and causes Deafness, Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhoea, Bronchitis, Leucorrhœa, and Consumption.

5. That Smokes, Douches, Inhalations, and Insoluble Snuffs, cannot possibly remove infectious inflammation from the organs named.

6. That an antidote for Catarrh must possess an inoculative affinity for, and the quality of being absorbed by, the purulent mucous wherever located.

Based upon these plain theories, Dr. Wei De Meyer's Catarrh Cure has proved to be infallible. It not only relieves, it cures Catarrh at any stage. Home testimony:

INTERESTING COMPARISONS.

The centre of population of the United States, moving slowly west and south, is now at a point in Kentucky a few miles southwest of the city of Cincinnati. While the growth of population is unquestionably most rapid in the west and southwest, it would be an error to suppose that its growth is small in other localities. The per centage of increase in the states west of the Mississippi river is largest of any, but as matter of fact the absolute increase of population in either of the states of Michigan, Ohio or Illinois, from 1870 to 1880, was larger than in any northern state west of the Mississippi except Kansas. Again, in absolute numbers, the increase of population from 1870 to 1880 in New York or Pennsylvania was larger than in any other state except Texas, whose area is six times as great as that of either.

The states of Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin showed a total increase in the ten years of 2,082,666; while the increase in the states of Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska was 2,146,216. It appears, then, that the growth of population in five states west of the Mississippi is but a trifle greater in absolute numbers than that of the five states lying next east of them. Taking the group lying next east of the State of Ohio, including the states of Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, we find an increase of 1,862,059 from 1870 to 1880—almost equal to the increase of either of the other two groups of five states just spoken of, though the area is much smaller than that of either of the other groups. Omitting the New England states, it will be observed that the rate of increase, taking all the states north of the Potomac and Ohio, and west of the Mississippi as far as Kansas and Nebraska, has not varied greatly in the three different groups. All the southern states show an increase, and, with the exception of Texas, a nearly uniform one. The great gain of Texas, as compared with that of all the other states, is due to its vast area. Taking this into account, its increase has been much less than that of Kansas, and below even that of Kentucky or Mississippi.

While the percentage of gain in the Pacific states is large, the absolute increase as compared with that of the whole country, or even of most of the individual states, is small. The gain in the whole group of Pacific states and territories is less than that of the single State of Kansas, and scarcely more than that of the comparatively old State of Ohio.

THE MAYORALTY.

On Wednesday it was discovered that in the footing of the returns by the board of election in the third ward ten votes more had been given to Mr. Simon than he had actually received. Upon the face of the returns this error was apparent, and it was ascertained from the statements of the judges and clerks of the election in that ward just how the mistake had occurred. There has been no dispute as to the fact. Before the board of canvassers the question was, however, raised whether the said board had the lawful right to correct this obvious error. If it should not correct it the certificate of election would issue to Mr. Simon, though it was perfectly apparent that he had not received a majority of the votes cast. If, on the other hand, the board should correct the error, Mr. Thompson would get the certificate to which the returns showed him plainly entitled. The canvassers decided that they had the right, and that it was their duty under the law, to correct an admitted clerical error, and so the certificate of election was awarded to Mr. Thompson. Mr. Simon may ask for a recount, which the common council no doubt will grant on application. For the present, and until a contest is raised, the case is settled in favor of Mr. Thompson, who has received the certificate and taken the oath. The little tempest created by this prolonged contest will now, it is hoped, be allowed to subside, so that whatever further proceedings may be taken there may be less public commotion. Also some abatement of personal and private feeling may follow, which would not be amiss.

A well known London journal, the Pall Mall Gazette, predicts a financial crash in Great Britain as a result of crazy speculation. It says: "The bonds of bankrupt states and railways, shares in neglected or unworkable mines, stocks of iron or coal companies, all and everything that seemed low in price has been driven up, and for the most part has remained up. Stocks that pay no dividends at all, and that may never pay any, often stand higher in price to-day than others did a few years ago which yielded some dividends." This condition of things extends also to America. In fact it is world-wide, embracing not only the United States and England, but France as well, where the people recently went mad in their race for the very "fancy" Panama canal shares; and Germany, where speculation has of late become rife, though in a less degree possibly than in the other countries mentioned. When the crash does come, therefore, it will not be confined within narrow limits. Whether it starts in England or the United States, it will inevitably extend to both countries, and eventually also to the continent of Europe. The explanation given by the Gazette of the causes of wild speculation in England is "bad trade and cheap money." There not being use in legitimate enterprises for all the money in England, much of it has found its way into the banks. The accumulations of deposits have made the market easy, and any kind of security has been taken for loans. The banks are, or believe they are, under the necessity of declaring dividends, hence they contribute liberally to the inflation by letting their loanable funds go out on easy terms to speculators. One day this sort of thing will topple over. Universal experience points that way.

In the building of railroads new labor-saving devices are from time to time coming into use. The latest heard of is a plow now in use by several companies extending their roads in the western states and territories. It is designed to dig a ditch and at the same time throw dirt on the track for the purpose of raising the grade on imperfectly prepared roadbeds, upon which a track may be temporarily laid. This plow weighs 2500 pounds and is attached to a flat car, which is loaded down with several tons of iron, so that it cannot be thrown from the track. The plow, moved by locomotive power, cuts a furrow eighteen inches deep and three and a half feet wide, and throws the dirt on the track. One plow does the work of 2000 men with shovels, on prairie land, while with a plow on each side of the track, if desired, double the work is done. It frequently is the case on prairies and through valleys that long stretches of track may be laid without any grading at all, and with a machine of this kind to perfect the track afterward, a wonderful amount of work can be done in a short time with a few men. The plow has been tested on a number of roads, and it is said with satisfactory results on all.

Jeff Davis's book is characterized as the "Tale of the Two Johnstons," the good Johnston being Albert Sidney, who, in obedience to the rule that "the good die young," fell at Shiloh, while the bad Joe Johnston lived to thwart Davis's policy by refusing to lick Sherman after he had surrendered and [illegible] the bad Johnston was left with 40,000 men to overcome Sherman's army and all the rest of the national forces. Davis is not satisfied with exhibiting his dull malignity towards his opponents on the union side, but insists on making an equally signal fool of himself in his remarks on some of the most able supporters of the confederacy.

A new ballot box has just been submitted to the French government. It has two locks, each opening with a different key, and an apparatus which clips a stub or coupon from the ticket deposited by the voter, and drops the stub into one part of the box, the ticket going into the other division. Simultaneously the machine registers on a tablet before the voter the number of tickets clipped. The ballots must agree in number with the stubs and both with the [illegible] tally, and the voter sees for himself that his ballot has been cast and taken account of. This is the ballot box we want in Portland, particularly in the Second ward.

When this year opened there were 890,518 professional paupers in England, or one beggar to about every twenty-five persons. That is to say, that in the richest country in the world every twenty-fifth person is a pauper, absolutely dependent upon the community for his support. There is, we believe, no other civilized country in which so shameful a condition of things exists. The cause may be found in the nature of the land laws and in the operations of the free trade system. What England needs is a revolution, which will depose the aristocracy and place the government in the hands of the people.

PELL'S CONSIGNMENT OF DRY GOODS TO BE SOLD IN PORTLAND.

On the 3d day of the present month, F. L. DREW, of San Francisco, received a large consignment of DRY GOODS from Jerome Pell, of New York, which have been shipped to Portland, and will be sold at PUBLIC AUCTION to the highest bidder, UNDER THE ESMOND, commencing TUESDAY EV'NG, June 21, 1881, and continuing each 2 and 8 P. M., until the entire consignment is sold. This consignment is fresh from some of the best Eastern and foreign manufacturers, comprising SILKS, SATINS, DRESS GOODS, a large and varied assortment of LINEN GOODS, TABLE LINENS, TOWELS and NAPKINS, bleached and unbleached, of all grades. Also 3600 pieces EMBROIDERY, from the cheapest and narrowest to the widest and finest; a fine line of BEDSPREADS, both foreign and domestic, a large line of LACE CURTAINS of the Latest and Most Elegant Designs and Patterns. Also a few dozen BUGGY ROBES and HORSE COVERS, and a line of Ladies' and Gents' Cotton, Lisle Thread and Silk HOSIERY, SHEETINGS, FLANNELS, etc.

As this consignment is composed largely of LADIES' GOODS, particular attention will be given to make the sale pleasant and agreeable to ladies. Although in Hosiery, Handkerchiefs, Towels, Napkins, etc., dozens will not be broken, an effort will be made to sell in sufficiently small quantities, so that any family or individual can purchase as well as merchants. No goods will be sold at private sale, except wholesale. All sums under $250 payable without discount; $250 and over, 2 per cent. discount. As shelving can only be arranged on one side of the store, the shelves will be filled each morning with fresh goods. Goods packed and shipped to any depot in Portland, free of charge. Appointments made with merchants from 10 to 12 A. M.

CITY.

[illegible]—Among other numerous attractions [illegible] the picnic to be given by the craft of [illegible] there will be a contest for first water [illegible] between Capital Engine No. 1 and Tiger Engine Co. [illegible] each company to run two blocks and throw [illegible] feet of hose, for a purse of $50, [illegible] followed by a race between the hose [illegible] of the respective companies for a purse of $25, [illegible] will be awarded to Albert Hoag and [illegible] of $25 will be awarded [illegible] Company No. 1 after a parade drill. Those [illegible] will take place at 3 o'clock P. M. A boat [illegible] will also take place between two boat clubs for [illegible] of a silver cup. The Capital Guards will [illegible] on parade and a game of base ball will be [illegible] between the Eureka club of Salem and the [illegible] for championship. This promises [illegible] very interesting feature of the day. Over 70 [illegible] are to be awarded for various contests, and [illegible] of fun is promised. Grand ball at [illegible] of the evening. Everybody cor-[illegible] invited to attend all exercises.

[illegible] of his excel-[illegible] notarial commissions have been issued [illegible] of the secretary of state: [illegible] of Portland, notary public; Thos. F. [illegible] and Vincent [illegible] of New York city; [illegible] W. Perkins, Kansas City, commissioner [illegible]; Richard M. Stewart, 1st lieutenant, and S. [illegible] 2d lieutenant [illegible], 1st regiment, 2d brig., [illegible] M. Washington Guard, Portland, Oregon.

[illegible]—During Wednesday night [illegible] unfortunate girl named Latham, who is employed [illegible] disreputable cellar near the corner of Morrison [illegible] and Front streets, attempted to commit suicide by [illegible] swallowing a quantity of laudanum. A physician [illegible] was called in who administered a powerful emetic [illegible] which soon relieved the misguided young woman.

TAKEN SUDDENLY ILL.—Yesterday afternoon Mr. [illegible] Turnbull, one of East Portland's highly [illegible] respected citizens, was taken suddenly ill with [illegible] of the heart, while on the stand at the [illegible] court house testifying in the City Rankin case. He [illegible] was conveyed to his home in East Portland, and at [illegible] last accounts was resting comfortably.

NOT A MEMBER.—The statement which has been [illegible] made that the late Samuel L. Wells, who died sud-[illegible] denly on Wednesday, was a member of Pacific lodge, [illegible] A. O. U. W., proves to be incorrect. Over a year ago [illegible] Mr. Wells, for reasons of his own, severed his con-[illegible] nection with the order, and at the time of his death [illegible] was not a Workman.

MUSICALE.—This evening a musicale will be given [illegible] at the Unitarian chapel, corner Seventh and Yam-[illegible] hill. Among others, Mrs. J. M. Ten Bosch, Miss [illegible] Packard, Miss Freeman and the Amphion club, [illegible] will assist. After the concert refreshments will be [illegible] served.

FINE MAPLE SUGAR.—A few days ago U. S. Attor-[illegible] ney Mallory received 205 pounds of fine maple sugar [illegible] from his brother who resides in eastern New York. [illegible] The sugar came in cakes [illegible] and [illegible] as the finest quality of cane sugar.

TAKEN TO THE ASYLUM.—Sheriff Hyde of Jackson [illegible] county, arrived in the city by the east side train last [illegible] evening, having in charge a man named David Hud-[illegible] son, who is insane. He was at once committed to [illegible] the care of Dr. Hawthorne and conveyed to the asylum.

FINE SHEEP.—The steamer Oregon brought from [illegible] San Francisco her present trip 50 head of full blood [illegible] Spanish merino sheep. There are 25 bucks and the [illegible] same number of ewes. These sheep will be taken [illegible] to the State Fair to-day.

[illegible]—The Sunday school of St. [illegible] East Portland, have [illegible] chartered the steamer [illegible] for a [illegible] excursion [illegible] on Saturday, [illegible] 25th.

[illegible]—We [illegible] by private letter [illegible] that Mr. Wm. M. Hand, editor and proprietor [illegible] of The Dalles Mountaineer, is lying dangerously ill [illegible] at his home at The Dalles.

[illegible].—The steamer California arrived [illegible] at 6 P. M. yesterday and left for Portland [illegible] She will be due at daylight.

A CELESTIAL STRANGER.

A New Comet makes its Unheralded Appearance in the Northern Heavens.

[illegible] who had occasion to be out at an early [illegible] Thursday morning, were somewhat surprised to [illegible] see a comet low down near the horizon in the north-[illegible] eastern. The tail spread fan like, reaching back [illegible] several degrees, dipping slightly toward the [illegible] west. Who the stranger is, or from what portion [illegible] of illimitable space it comes, is the question. [illegible] The advent of this comet seems to have been over-[illegible] looked by astronomers.

SEEN BY SYMONS.

Lieut. Thomas W. Symons, lieutenant of engi-[illegible] neers, sends the following dispatch from Spokan [illegible] Falls in regard to the advent of this celestial stran-[illegible] ger:

SPOKAN FALLS, June 23, 1881.

A grand comet has been discovered. It rose this morning at 1 o'clock. Its direction is 15 degrees east of north.

FROM OREGON CITY.

OREGON CITY, June 23, 1881.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Last night, in a direction from here of about N. [illegible] degrees E., and six to eight degrees above the horizon, was plainly visible to the naked eye a comet the star of the first magnitude, and the tail extending upward eight or ten degrees. I saw it about half-past 1 A. M. Our city watchman reports it visible until it faded in the twilight of the morning. Is this a stranger or some expected visitor?

CROWLEY, Polk Co., June 23, 1881.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

I don't know whether or not I am the first person to see the new comet, and so get the premium. At [illegible] o'clock this morning, about two points east of north, it was to be seen in all its grandeur from here, just rising with the moon and morning star, above the Bola hills. Such a beautiful sight. The [illegible] is about 6 or 7 feet long and 3 feet wide at the [illegible] of course in its appearance to me. At 3 o'clock it had almost disappeared in the brightness of the moon.

TURN VEREIN PICNIC.

THE PORTLAND SOCIAL TURN VEREIN—Will give a picnic on Sunday, June 26, to Parker's Landing. The steamer City of Quincy will leave the foot of Morrison street at 9 o'clock. The reputation and standing of the Turn Verein is a sufficient guaranty that the affair will be conducted in a first-class manner. Messrs. Varney & Bray will furnish music for the occasion. Tickets for gents, $1; ladies, 50 cents.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Fun on the Bristol" drew another immense audience last night. The financial success of this engagement has been wonderful but no greater than it merits. To-night an entire change in the musical programme will be made.

Tickets for the Union Picnic of the Presbyterian and Congregational Sunday schools will be for sale at the following places: G. P. Rummer's up-town [illegible] store, Hackeney & Remo's, corner First and Taylor streets; George H. Hill's city book store, John A. Child's, Central drug store, J. K. Gill & Co. THE MAYORALTY.

THE CANVASSERS DECLARE MR. D. P. THOMPSON ELECTED

And he is Sworn In—A Writ of Mandamus Issued Upon Mr. Simon's Petition, Etc.

Thursday, City Auditor and Clerk Durham, County Clerk Borthwick and Justice of the Peace Tuttle, the duly authorized canvassing board, declared Hon. D. P. Thompson elected mayor at the election held last Monday, and awarded him a certificate of election together with the other elected city treasurer and councilmen elect. At 11 o'clock A. M. the board [illegible] were addressed by Hon. J. W. Whalley on behalf of Thompson, and by Hon. Richard Williams on behalf of Simon, after which the board took a recess until 2 P. M. When they reassembled in the council chamber, there was a large attendance. [illegible] rose and said that the board had given the matter of the contest between the two candidates [illegible] consideration with a view [illegible] getting at the true result. They had no personal [illegible] in the matter. Both gentlemen were their personal friends. They had only the law by which [illegible] He then read Sec. 26, Chap. [illegible] of the [illegible] laws.

The clerks [illegible] in a column under the [illegible] the precincts voted for, as hereinafter pro-[illegible] the form of poll books, all the votes [illegible]

Mr. Davis [illegible] "We have decided that the [illegible] is a part of the returns, whether at-[illegible] separately from the poll book, and that [illegible] have the right to correct errors as manifest [illegible] the [illegible] ten votes in the Third ward."

He then requested Mr. Durham to read the find-[illegible] of the board, which he did [illegible] prepared in writ-[illegible] as above stated.

While Mr. Durham walked to the [illegible] for the purpose of getting the board's report, Sheriff [illegible] served a writ of mandamus on each member [illegible] of the board. After a recital of the facts of the election, the writ [illegible]:

It is therefore ordered that said defendants, E. T. Durham, A. E. Borthwick and H. W. Davis, be and they are [illegible] to canvass the votes cast as shown by the [illegible] authorized [illegible] sealed by the judges of election of the different wards [illegible] and to [illegible] the matter or thing whatsoever [illegible] as shown by such returns, [illegible] in the [illegible] of the different wards in said city, and to make [illegible] a written statement of the whole [illegible] votes given for the [illegible] Joseph Simon and for said D. P. Thompson [illegible] election and the names of the persons elected as shown by said returns and to what office said persons were respectively elected, or [illegible] why they [illegible] at 2 P. M. on the [illegible] day of June, 1881. At chambers. RALEIGH STOTT, Judge.

The writ, however, was served more than half an hour after the board had made its findings, and awarded certificates.

Promptly at 5 o'clock the board appeared before Judge Stott, and through their attorney Mr. Whalley, filed an answer and asked that the writ be dismissed. Judge C. B. Bellinger for the plaintiff asked leave to reply to the answer, which was granted. Owing to the great press of criminal business, Judge Stott will not be able to hear further argument of the case before Saturday, and perhaps not till Monday.

At half-past three Mr. Thompson received his certificate and was sworn in as mayor by the city auditor and clerk.

The vote as announced Monday night was: Simon 1794, Thompson 1785. Deducting the ten ballots erroneously credited to Simon in the 3d ward, leaves the vote: Thompson 1785, Simon 1784, thus giving the former a majority of one.

YESTERDAY'S REVIVAL SERVICES

The noon meeting was very fully attended and the interest was fully in advance of any previous service, that is if it can be judged by the number of those who arose and desired Christians to pray for them. After listening to

of Mr. Hallenbeck as he set forth the hopeless condition of Naaman the Syrian, recorded in 2 Kings, v. 1-14, an opportunity was given and not less than twenty persons expressed a desire to commence a life of Christian devotion. Quite a large number of personal written prayer for their loved ones, and many petitions for prayer were read. All present acknowledged the deepening interest felt.

A REMARKABLE MEETING.

The prayer was held for thirty minutes by the ladies of this city and from East Portland and adjoining towns. It is an interesting fact that the [illegible] towns in Washington and Oregon are coming to share in the seasons of spiritual refreshing that is [illegible] the Christian people of Portland, and many who are coming [illegible] from here the glad tidings of great joy to families and loved ones at [illegible] points.

[illegible] the Christian ladies [illegible] knowledge that here is [illegible] taught by the Bible is [illegible] [illegible] of primitive Christians as set forth in the Acts of the Apostles [illegible], very many families of rich and poor, high and low, are singing the [illegible] experience of peace [illegible] and great [illegible] love

[illegible]

Was opened as usual [illegible] the [illegible] of the hands of many on the streets. [illegible] Mr. Hallenbeck then read a por-[illegible] the 55th chapter of the prophecy of Isaiah, and then followed an exceedingly affecting hymn. The evangelist then read the 7th verse of this chapter [illegible] He introduced his address by setting before the audience

[illegible]

Three things the sinner must do, and two things the Lord will do. Let the sinner [illegible] his ways and the unrighteous his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord, and the Lord will have mercy upon him, and our God will abundantly pardon. The speaker observed that last night, I spoke of [illegible] God's part in this matter, and tonight I wish to present [illegible] side of this subject. He made a most impressive appeal to the audience, and besought them to be earnest, and he assured the people that it does not take a really earnest man to find an earnestly loving and seeking Saviour.

He appealed to the benevolent, Christian public to contemplate the wretchedness and hopelessness of the multitude around them, and urged in earnestness and in the love of God to turn them to the friend of publicans and sinners. How hopeless is the condition of many of our friends with reference to the future—how ignorant! How insensible! What fearful inertia to be moved by moral and loving appeals. The case of the sailor who was so earnest to be saved from a watery grave, was used as a fitting illustration of the earnestness which should characterize souls hastening to an irreversible destiny. The trifling antediluvians who disregarded the warnings of the coming doom, because earnest when it was too late. In like manner the dwellers in Sodom and Gomorrah, despised the goodness of God until consumed by fire and brimstone.

He also quoted the case of the young man who resisted the appeals of this text, from which he heard sermon after sermon. This course was persisted in until obduracy of heart and impenitency of spirit overtook him and with reason dethroned he closed his career in an asylum, ever and anon repeating this text: "Seek ye the Lord while he may be found."

This appeal was truly pathetic, and all present were entreated in accents of deepest tenderness and yearning to seek the Lord while he may be found. A season of silent prayer followed, then was sung, very sweetly, the 185 hymn, commencing, "In the silent midnight watches."

INQUIRY MEETING

Was then commenced by singing "There is a Fountain Filled with Blood," during the singing of which opportunity was given for those to retire who felt that they must do so—a few only left, the most part remained in earnest expectancy. Christians entered upon their personal labors in behalf of the inquirers and very many bowed reverently seeking the forgiveness of sins. Mr. Hallenbeck related a moving incident illustrating how readily a soul may pass from death unto life. It was the case of a young lady who attended a meeting conducted by Mr. Moody in Chicago, who had been three years seeking the Lord. After conversing with her she replied: "I will trust Jesus from this hour." The day following Mr. Moody was somewhat surprised to see her enter the inquiry room, and following, he saw her earnestly conversing with a young lady friend and overheard her to say, "It is all in trusting."

MEETINGS TO-DAY.

The meetings will be held by Mr. Hallenbeck at noon to-day, to one hour, and will be followed by the ladies' prayer meeting for half an hour, conducted by the ladies. Preaching at a quarter to 8 this evening by Mr. Hallenbeck.

MAYOR THOMPSON SERENADED.

Introductory Remarks by Hon. J. W. Whalley—Speech by the Mayor-Elect—Music, Fire-works—An Immense Crowd.

Last evening friends of Mayor Thompson to the number of 400 or 500, headed by the East Portland band, marched to his residence at the corner of Tenth and Yamhill streets. Along the route [illegible] of fireworks [illegible] woke the slumbering echoes, while [illegible] and sky rockets shot aloft [illegible] the air. An immense crowd followed [illegible] so that by the time the mayor's residence was reached not less than 2000 persons had assembled in the vicinity.

After a lively air by the band loud calls were made for Mayor Thompson, who appeared on the veranda, accompanied by Hon. J. W. Whalley and a number of friends. Calls were made for Mr. Whalley, who advanced and said:

[illegible]—We meet for the purpose of celebrating a triumph over Mr. Joseph Simon [illegible] triumph over those elements [illegible] combined in this city to defeat a gentleman who had ably and well filled the position [illegible] the past two years. So far as Mr. Simon is concerned we have no word of condemnation for that gentleman. We have known him for many [illegible] to state that he has been anything but an honorable [illegible]. It is undoubtedly a fact that certain classes [illegible] that they could not [illegible] the Hon. D. P. Thompson [illegible] individual by [illegible] Mr. Simon, but when they [illegible] thought they would [illegible] in the [illegible] Had Mr. Simon [illegible] mayor [illegible] the [illegible] to be [illegible] take any [illegible] the election. They will [illegible] good and [illegible] have [illegible] the city of Portland.

[illegible] you the next mayor [illegible]

Mayor Thompson [illegible] substantially as follows:

[illegible] I will only thus to say [illegible] speaker. My [illegible] My [illegible] my [illegible]

I regard when the [illegible] charter [illegible] a certain [illegible] be made [illegible] sections of the charter were not legal; that they were not constitutional; that the city could tax but property [illegible] for street improvements, taxes or anything of that kind. Any person who owned city property could come in several years after and purchase the property [illegible] pay no more than it had originally been sold for. Consequently some parties who owned the property and had allowed it to be sold for several years for taxes then came in by paying interest or anything of that kind.

I proposed to the city council that a commission be appointed to revise and draft a new charter. By the advice and consent of the common council I appointed such a commission. The council, after, at my suggestion, made some amendments. One was that the office of city assessor be abolished at the end of the present term. The members of the council were all present when the first proposition was made. I believe all of them, and there was no dissenting voice. We sent the charter as revised and amended to Salem, and one member of the legislature asked the privilege of taking the charter, and proposed that it should be passed as proposed by the commission. This was done. This member went up to Salem and you all know the conditions in which the charter was placed. The members of the legislature from this county, at least three or four of them, began to make amendments to the charter, which the tax-payers of this city did not ask for nor desire. A petition was circulated and very numerously signed by the tax-payers of Portland, remonstrating against the passage of the charter as amended by the legislature. One of the members of the council went to Salem and proposed to the legislature that nothing be done. This member represented that the property owners of Portland did not wish the charter to pass in its present form.

No attention whatever was paid to the remonstrance by my opponent, Mr. Simon. I have no [illegible] in the world to find with him. I believe him to be an honorable, upright gentleman. Mr. Simon was active in securing the passage of the new charter, which, as revised, placed almost unlimited power in the hands of the mayor [illegible] honestly [illegible] entrusted to the hands of any [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] Everybody was satisfied with the [illegible] of the passage of the new charter.

Immediately after the adoption of the new charter by Mr. Simon's friends, who had been so active in securing the passage of the amended instrument, were pushing him forward for candidate for mayor, and my friends, to counteract that, began to talk about my becoming a candidate for re-election. The people did not want [illegible] They wanted [illegible] representatives [illegible] order. [illegible] were not [illegible] it was circulated and signed by a large [illegible] citizens [illegible] I had [illegible] to the [illegible] have [illegible] You all know what [illegible] expression.

The mayor then spoke at some length on the [illegible] school [illegible] of [illegible] will not [illegible] of [illegible] of the [illegible] gentlemen [illegible] but felt kindly toward all.

[illegible] the mayor said: I again thank you for this demonstration, and I wish to say that while it has been bitter I have now no personal feelings in the matter. It is true my private business has been [illegible] in the [illegible] the newspapers [illegible] but brought my wife's name into this political campaign.

There is the best of feeling between Mr. Simon and myself. I was forced into this [illegible] I did not want it [illegible] to serve the city as mayor for the next two years.

At the close of the mayor's remarks, which were interrupted frequently by loud and enthusiastic cheers, Mr. James Gleason was called for and made a very neat little speech, which was received with cheers. Hon. W. W. Page was also called for and responded in very brief but appropriate remarks.

Mayor Thompson then bid the immense throng good night, and retired. The band marched away playing a lively air and the crowd dispersed.

(Bill Nye.)

"Warriors: I am an aged [illegible].

"The mountain wind's sigh among my withered limbs. A few more suns and I shall fall among the solemn hush of the forest, and my place will be vacant. I shall tread the walks of the happy hunting grounds, and sing glad hallelujahs where the worm dieth and the fire-water is not quenched.

"Once I was the pride of my tribe and the swift-foot of the prairie. I stood with my brethren like the towering oak, and my prowess was known throughout the nation. Now I bow to the wintry blast and hump myself with a vigorous and anxious hump.

"My eagle eye is dimmed. The fleetness of my limbs is gone. The vigor of my youth is past. I do not shout now to my warriors, for the cliffs and rocks refuse to answer back my cry, and it sinks away like the sad moan of the lowgrade refractory mule.

"When my brethren go forth to shoot the swift-footed ranchman as he gambols on the hillsides, I cower above the campfire and rub mutton-tallow on my favorite chilblain through the still watches of the night.

"Warriors, I yearn for immortality. The White Father has said that over yonder the life is one of uninterrupted editorial excursion. No inflammatory rheumatism can ever enter there.

"I want to be a copper-colored angel and out-fly the boss angel of the entire outfit. I want to see Pocahontas and other great men who have climbed the golden stair. I want something to eat, so as to surprise my stomach. I want a long period of rest and soul-destroying inactivity.

"Warriors, my sun is set. I have lost my grip. My features are sharpened by age, and one by one my white teeth have resigned till but two are left, and they do not seem to mash by an overwhelming majority. I cannot masticate buffalo tripe or even relish my tarantula on toast as I once could.

"My twilight is fading into evening, and the day is [illegible] dead grass, and I know that the night is at hand. Far away upon the gentle winds I hear the soft cooing of the Colorado tom-cat, and the thump of the stove-lid as it misses the cat and strikes with a hollow, mournful sound against the corral. A few more moons and you will meet but you will miss me. There will be one vacant chair.

"The veal cutlet and the watermelon of the pale-face hold out no inducements to me. The circus and the ice-cream festival will miss me, for I shall be far away in the other blue, where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest. I shall be reveling in more eternal rest than I know what to do with.

"Farewell, my warriors. Make my humble grave low in the valley where the columbine and the Rocky mountain flea can clamber over my last resting place, and carve upon the slab above my head the name of Minneconjouprestpitatenuxquoicatabuskunkahcoquipahh aha mazanpahkahconkaska. The cross eyed caterpillar-who-walks-on-his-hindlegs and howls like paleface-pappoose-who-advertises-to-hold-down-the-blonde-bumble-bee."

THURSDAY, June 23.

The wheat market continues dull and languid, as the owners of what surplus there is in the country do not seem inclined to meet the market therefor. It may be quoted at $1 35 per cental with a slightly declining tendency, owing to a better feeling in freights.

From what information we are able to glean from our exchanges, as well as by free inquiries from warehousemen and merchants visiting the city, we are inclined to the opinion that the outturn of wheat in the Willamette valley will hardly be up to last year's standard, either for yield or quality; the shrinkage in some localities may amount to ten per cent. unless the present fears of rust, mildew and choking by wild oats are dissipated in the future.

From Douglas county also comes the report of a diminished yield, consequent a good deal on the protracted dry weather they have had there until a recent date. These shortages are, however, much more than atoned for by the increase of acreage and yield in eastern Oregon and Washington territory, which, it is now fully assured, will produce a crop somewhat commensurate with the expectations that have been predicated of that section. It is calculated by experts that not less than 100,000 tons will be available for export from that region, which, added to the reasonable expectation of the yield from western Oregon will make at least 250,000 tons of grain for our next season's work, inclusive of about 30,000 that will be carried over from this crop year. The immensity of this business we believe has scarcely begun to dawn upon the exporters, and it will require good management to attract a grain fleet hither, or to carry it off in consecutive order.

The Liverpool wheat market is in a much better condition for prices than at this time last year, being from $3 50@4 better value per ton, which is a good augury for better prices unless overslaughed by high freights. It must be remembered, however, that freights ruled at about 40s at the beginning of last shipping season, which they are sure not to range so low at this.

As is usually the case about this time of year, the importers of grain bags have combined to raise the price and regulate values, and so save themselves from the effects of injurious competition which had already depressed them below the actual cost of importation; the San Francisco quotation now comes through at 9@9¼c, where as low as 8c recently ruled; even at the highest quotation they are lower than they have ever been sold here as the average of a seasons transactions.

During the week under review but one ship has arrived, the Scottish Admiral, coal laden, which leaves four or five ships due and likely to put in an appearance any day. There is no disengaged ship in port and 85s for iron would be readily obtainable.

The wool market has not been so active the past week as the previous one, though for choice wools prices current have been maintained. Hitherto the demand here has been largely speculative and buyers who have stocked up seem inclined to purchase sparingly at present awaiting the outcome of previous purchases. Receipts are decreasing and it is estimated that two-thirds of the season's clip has been marketed, and perhaps three-fourths. Our quotations are the same as last week, 18 to 25 for eastern Oregon, and 20 to 27½c for valley wool; though we note sale during the week of a very choice lot of 10,000 pounds valley at 28½c.

The average salmon catch per boat during the week has been about seventeen or eighteen, not equal to the hopes of canners. Salmon on the river is worth $1 25 per dozen or $5 per case. Some of the canneries are paying 65c per fish to boatmen.

Home Produce Market.

Flour continues dull; prices are not affected by the rise in wheat. Oats are very firm at advanced quotations. Shipments to California are much larger than during any previous years. The supply here is hardly equal to home consumption, owing to heavy exports. Hay is weak and lower. The supply is excessive. Mill feed is firmer all round. The demand for bran is in excess of present supplies. Chopped feed is extremely scarce. There are no changes in cured meats. Hams and shoulders continue very firm, but the market is rather overstocked with side meat. Lard has advanced since last week, being affected by eastern advances. There is no increase in the demand. We can sing the same old song about dried apples. One lot of Plummer's sold this week at 6½ cents per pound. Dried plums are dead stock. Hides are firm all round. There is a very good demand for deer skins, especially for valley skins. Eastern Oregon deer skins are not wanted. Butter is somewhat improved. Stocks have decreased slightly and the market is firm. Country butter makers and packers should take more care in the preparation of butter for market. The price is greatly affected by the appearance of the product, and even a good quality, if packed in bad shape will [illegible] for good figures. Onions have declined owing to large receipts from California. Eggs advanced ½ cents during the week, but are now quotable at the same figure as last week. They will probably decline during the week. Good California cheese is in fair demand. Oregon cheese is already beginning to arrive, but the quality is rather inferior. Chickens have declined on account of very large receipts. Hop quotations are nominal. Old potatoes are about played out. We notice a few arrivals of new Oregon potatoes. Shingles are in very good demand. We note the arrival of several shingles from Cedar Mountain Shingle Co. These are of superior grade, as none are wasted in laying roofs.

MARK LANE REPORT.

Foreign Flour Paralyzing British Milling Interests.

LONDON, June 23.—The Mark Lane Express says: The weather, with the exception of a few cold nights, has been highly favorable to the growth and maturity of all crops. A copious rain fall has improved the prospect of spring sowing. Scarcity of fresh samples throughout country markets advanced prices generally 1 shilling. An attempt to obtain a similar advance in London Monday failed, but was partially realized Friday, millers being obliged to supply their needs. King of the Blood

Is not a "cure all," it is a blood-purifier and tonic. Impurity of blood poisons the system, deranges the circulation, and thus induces many disorders, known by different names to distinguish them according to effects, but being really branches or phases of that great generic disorder, Impurity of Blood. Such are Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Nervous Disorders, Headache, Backache, General Weakness, Heart Disease, Dropsy, Kidney Disease, Piles, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Skin Disorders, Pimples, Ulcers, Swellings, &c., &c. King of the Blood prevents and cures these by attacking the cause, Impurity of the Blood. Chemists and physicians agree in calling it "the most genuine and efficient preparation for the purpose." Sold by Druggists. $1 per bottle. See testimonials, directions, &c., in pamphlet, "Treatise on Diseases of the Blood," wrapped around each bottle.

THE GENUINE

Celebrated American

WORM SPECIFIC

OR

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS.

THE countenance is pale and leaden colored, with occasional flushes, or a circumscribed spot on one or both cheeks; the eyes become dull; the pupils dilate; an azure semicircle runs along the lower eye-lid; the nose is irritated, swells, and sometimes bleeds; a swelling of the upper lip; occasional headache, with humming or throbbing of the ears; an unusual secretion of saliva; slimy or furred tongue; breath very foul, particularly in the morning; appetite variable, sometimes voracious, with a gnawing sensation of the stomach, at others, entirely gone; fleeting pains in the stomach; occasional nausea and vomiting; violent pains throughout the abdomen; bowels irregular, at times costive; stools slimy; not unfrequently tinged with blood; belly swollen and hard; urine turbid; respiration occasionally difficult, and accompanied by hiccough; cough sometimes dry and convulsive; uneasy and disturbed sleep, with grinding of the teeth; temper variable, but generally irritable, &c.

Whenever the above symptoms are found to exist,

will certainly effect a cure.

IT DOES NOT CONTAIN MERCURY

in any form; it is an innocent preparation, not capable of doing the slightest injury to the most tender infant.

The genuine DR. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE bears the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrapper.

DR. C. McLANE'S

are not recommended as a remedy "for all the ills that flesh is heir to," but in affections of the liver, and in all Bilious Complaints, Dyspepsia and Sick Headache, or diseases of that character, they stand without a rival.

AGUE AND FEVER.

No better cathartic can be used preparatory to, or after taking Quinine.

As a simple purgative they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Each box has a red wax seal on the lid with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

Each wrapper bears the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.
